THE UNLOVED WIFE

By Mrs. R. M. B. Southworth.

When she had succeeded in raising a brilliant daughter, she turned to her husband for the first time since the young lady was started at the appearance of the young lady.

"Hiss, hiss, hiss, do not matter yet!"

she said, "I am not well, Nancy."

"I am not well, Nancy," she said, "I feel as if I were dying."

"You are not dying, Nancy," she said,

"I am only a little ill."

"You are not dying, Nancy," she said,

bein' Pity!

"Nancy, and tell the gentleman I will be down in a few minutes."

The woman left the room to deliver the message.

Lith smoothed her curly black hair, and her white necktie, and then she black diamond dress trimmed with ermine and went down stairs.

She opened the door of the little parlor and saw a gentleman standing there.

"There was a gentleman standing there," standing with his back towards the door, looking through the opposite window upon the winter snow storm without looking at her as she entered.

Dairymen's Convention.

THIRD DAY.

THURSDAY, Feb. 9th 1882.
The Convention re-assembled at 10 a. m., the President, Mr. J. B. Dwyer, presiding. The Treasurer, P. R. Daly, Esq., submitted his annual report, which showed that during the year ending Feb. 7th the receipts were $2,714.41; expenditure, $2,378.77; cash on hand, $335.64. The report was adopted.

The Committee on Nominations reported as follows:
PRESIDENT, C. Graham.
VICE-PRESIDENT, D. Dwyer.
TREASURER, P. R. Daly.
SECRETARIES, J. B. Dwyer and J. H. Lewis.

DICTIONARY, D. M. MacPherson.

No. 2, J. H. Lewis.
No. 3, J. H. Lewis.
No. 4, J. H. Lewis.
No. 5, J. H. Lewis.

ADDRESS—Jas. Hamilton and F. McLean.
The report of the Committee was adopted. The President thanked the Convention for electing him to the position which he was to hold and declared his intention to retire after the expiration of the current year.

The merits of "British" and "American" milk for the manufacture of cheese was discussed at length—several practical questions being raised in the process.

In reply to a question, Hon. H. Lewis said that nothing but the best milk was to be used in the manufacture of cheese.

Prof. Brown said, in reply to a question, that he considered it quite expensive to have a dairyman's milk analyzed.

Prof. Arnold, of Rochester, N. Y., read a paper on "The Mode of Acquiring Knowledge in the Dairy Industry." The paper was well received.

The knowledge of Agriculture came from tradition, the art had been developed by the dairyman himself. For every three or four hundred years had almost been lost.

He said that he had been in the dairy business for over thirty years, and that he had seen the dairy industry in this country grow from a small beginning to its present position.

The speaker referred to the dairy industry in this country, and said that he had seen it grow from a small beginning to its present position.

Daily Intelligence.

BELLVILLE, TUESDAY, FEB 14.

City and Vicinity.

THERE was a blank at the Police Court this morning.

The calls last night were monopolized by a lamp.

This morning was like a morning in May, except for the absence of the roses of rock.

Ice permitted, two rinks of the Belleville Curling Club will play a match in Foshborough on Thursday.

A HORSE got in the lot near Owl Island this morning, but was not out safely.

The two new seals, even for crossing on foot, are not yet in the city.

THE disputation between the City Council and the City Solicitor, the City Clerk, and Ald. Frost—left last evening.

MR. WALTER FARRINGHAM shipped today to more horses to Albany, via Prescott and Oshkosh. They were consigned to Mr. A. Vogel.

A CONCERT is to be given early in March by the choir of Bridge St. Methodist Church. The programme is now being prepared for it.

MR. BURNETT'S hair dressing room will be reopened on Monday night, Feb. 20th, in the Metropolitan Block, Campbell street, near small circular.

REMEMBER the anniversary of the Metropolitan Block, which is the 10th anniversary of its opening.

THE athletic and pool tables for the Mechanics Institute have been placed in the room today. All the rooms at the Institute have been renovated and improved.

WE have received from Mr. Charles H. Day, agent for the Forrester House, large and handsome executed portrait of Mr. Adam Forrester, the great chieftain.

THE unfortunate young man Robinson, who was so terribly burned at the Huntington fire on Friday morning, died on Saturday. He is still very young, and probably will not recover.

MR. little schoolmaster, owned by Mr. John Thompson, was burned last night in the Huntington fire, and the building destroyed. It is supposed that the fire was incendiary in its origin. Mr. Thompson's loss is estimated at about $400. He was uninsured.

THE Belleville Branch of the L.C.B.U. have made arrangements with Mr. Philip Thompson (Journal Printer), the Club's special correspondent in Ireland, for a March, on the subject of "The Condition of Ireland."

A DEARER response has been made to our appeal in Saturday's issue, for contributions in aid of Mr. John Thompson's lost wife, three children, and all his property by the Huntington fire. The sum has been forwarded to Mr. Moore. The list of contributors appears in another column.

WE call the attention of the public to the lecture to be delivered in the City Hall on Saturday night, "The Solar System," by Rev. H. J. Nett.

As the lecture will be fully illustrated by numerous maps and diagrams, we have no doubt it will prove highly interesting and instructive. Admission taken by A. G. Northrup, 100, 101, 102, 103, 104, 105, 106, 107, 108, 109, 110, 111, 112, 113, 114, 115, 116, 117, 118, 119, 120, 121, 122, 123, 124, 125, 126, 127, 128, 129, 130, 131, 132, 133, 134, 135, 136, 137, 138, 139, 140, 141, 142, 143, 144, 145, 146, 147, 148, 149, 150, 151, 152, 153, 154, 155, 156, 157, 158, 159, 160, 161, 162, 163, 164, 165, 166, 167, 168, 169, 170, 171, 172, 173, 174, 175, 176, 177, 178, 179, 180, 181, 182, 183, 184, 185, 186, 187, 188, 189, 190, 191, 192, 193, 194, 195, 196, 197, 198, 199, 200.

WE are in receipt of the "Country College" (Kingston) Journal, which is now under the management of Mr. W. J. Shank, a native of this city. The Journal is a weekly paper, and its contents are of great interest to the editor and contributors, its pages being well supplied with excellent matter, and its circulation is very large. It is a most respectable paper in the Province of Ontario.

THE annual missionary meeting, in connection with the City Hall, on Sunday evening, in the Metropolitan Hall, was very successful, both in attendance, and in result. The speakers were Mr. E. J. Nett, of the D. S. B. Institute; Rev. L. Wallbridge, and J. H. Simpson, Esq. All the speakers were interesting and instructive. At the close, a collection in aid of the Missionary Board was taken, and a silver service was presented.

Monthly Report of the Woman's Christian Association.

During the month of January all has been going on much as usual, the principal work in the Association being the reception of our Home and Hospital, by 15 of our volunteer workers, and the presentation of our petition before the Provincial Parliament.

At the Home and Hospital, the work was carried on in the usual manner, and the petition was presented to the Provincial Parliament.

This valuable medicine is purely vegetable and does not contain any opium or other dangerous ingredients. It is a powerful remedy for Consumption, Coughs, Colds, Catarrh, Croup, Asthma, Influenza, Pleurisy, Hoarseness, Spitting Blood, Bronchitis, and every kind of pulmonary complaint. It is also a powerful remedy for Rheumatism, Gout, Gravel, and all kinds of inflammatory affections. It is sold in bottles of six and twelve each, and is everywhere available. Price, 25 cents per bottle. Sold by all druggists and grocers.

CONSUMPTION
is a terrible disease, if properly treated it is a curable one. The following is a list of the symptoms which are indicative of its presence:—A cough, which is dry at first, but soon becomes moist and produces much mucus; shortness of breath, especially after exertion; loss of appetite and weight; night sweats; and a general feeling of weakness and exhaustion. If these symptoms are neglected, the disease will progress until it reaches a fatal stage. But if it is detected early, and a course of N. H. Downs' Vegetable Balsamic Elixir is taken, the patient will find himself gradually recovering, and in due season will be able to resume his usual avocations without fear of relapse.

BELLEVILLE, MONDAY, FEB. 27.

City and Vicinity.

ONLY one prisoner—an old man—was in the cells last night.

CITY COUNCIL this evening. The meeting promises to be lively.

We have received from W. R. McLean $2.00 for the Moody and Moreland Fund.

The continuation of the story "The Loved Wife," will be found on the third page.

A lady fainted in the M. E. Tabernacle during the service yesterday morning and had to be taken out.

We are informed that the Ontario State Association have selected the site for the establishment of their plant. It is not, however, to be made public just yet.

A little newspaper took place on Front St. this morning. Between the two parties, a cooler and a farmer, arising out of a dispute about a horse. The farmer got rather the worst of it.

We have received a copy of a pamphlet, "The Scriptural Doctrine of Baptism," by the Rev. Robert J. Jackson, B. D., D. D., Brockville. Copies can be had at Orrville's. Price 10 cents.

Two specimens of the regalia of Ross County Chapter of the new Masonic order, the Rite of Memphis, are on exhibition in the window of Spang's drug store.

They are unusually gorgeous and tasteful. The question of a grant to the Mechanics Institute will come before the City Council this evening. It is to be hoped that our city officials will liberally with the Institute, which is now doing an excellent work in our midst.

Mr. Davis is very much pleased with the Kingston Opera House, which he examined last week, and has determined to build the new Opera House here after that model, excepting that he will make it a little wider.

Mr. and Mrs. Moody, who lost their children by the fire in Annalsburg last week, were at the M. E. Tabernacle, where they were very interesting and instructive in a high degree. The subject is "How to rise in the world."

A CITY physician a day or two ago sat down suddenly on a bottle of carbolic acid which he carried in his pocket, and laid the liquid, coming in contact with his leg, inflicting a very serious burn from which he suffers severely.

In addition to the numbers already on the programme of the Higgs concert, probably that a duet between Mrs. Caldwell and Mrs. Warrington will be given.

City Mission services this week—In the City Mission School Room, Mrs. Corbett's store, Church St., on Monday, Thursday and Friday evening. On Tuesday evening at Mr. Laidler's, near the corner of Church and Dundas St. All the services at 7:30.

Has the Peterborough Review: "Conductor Station, of the Grand Junction line, has been informed that he will be added no less than 75 market tickets between Belleville and Peterborough on Saturday last, and all of the ticketholders were bound for our town."

The many friends of Mr. J. B. Dickson, D.D., who has been attending the Philadelphia Convention, will be glad to learn that he has passed a creditable examination in that institution, and has secured the degree of Doctor of Divinity.

Mr. Dickson will now return to Belleville, where he will practice his profession, and we trust successfully.

MORNING DESPATCHES.

THE UNLOVED WIFE.

BY MISS R. D. N. HOUTWATER.

CHAPTER XXV.

WARNING.

Life is full of sorrow. Death is full of pain. Strength and wisdom are vain. Love is the future day. None can prevent the way. And the love of the day. Never died from the day. Love.

From that most agonizing interview in the Congressional Library, Howard went to his seat in the House of Representatives.

He found the needed number there at last. The members, who had probably been delayed by the snow-storm and the overcrowded and jammed street cars, were at last in their seats, and the affairs of the nation were in full bloom.

It was well for Taylor Howard that he possessed the rare faculty of abstracting his thoughts from all distracting subjects, however important, and of concentrating upon any duty that lay at hand.

In examining the bill that followed the presentation of his bill he soon forgot the time being the distress of that half hour spent with Lady Von Kirensburg in the above of the library.

He was at that night before the House adjourned, and the young statesman walked from the Capitol through the still driving storm to that end of the city which, in the which, for the want of a better, he called home.

He was utterly weary, yet triumphant, for his bill was passed, though by a small majority.

He sat down in his disordered room, his writing table piled up with unanswered letters, his waste basket overflowing with letters never to be answered.

He was nearly exhausted, for with the exception of a cup of coffee hastily qualified at the counter of the restaurant, he had not broken his fast since his early breakfast.

Whether he longed for food, or whether he felt that he had no time to do so, he did not matter.

He sat at his writing table, in addition to all the letters he had laid aside to answer, a dozen or so of new ones, that had come in during the day, and had been brought to his room and left on his table by the hotel porter.

He sat long into the night, his head bent over his pen, his day's exertion pouring out upon any duty that lay at hand.

He promised his half-fainting body that he would write, when he had time, and he would be answered, he would go down stairs and get something, but he went on writing and writing; and page after page was filled, folded, enveloped and directed.

At length, when outraged nature could no longer be restrained, though he had not time to be answered, he leaped back in his chair, and took out his watch to see if there were five o'clock, and so he went on.

Five o'clock! And so he went on. Five o'clock! And so he went on. Five o'clock! And so he went on.

Five o'clock! And so he went on. Five o'clock! And so he went on. Five o'clock! And so he went on.

Five o'clock! And so he went on. Five o'clock! And so he went on. Five o'clock! And so he went on.
